Martin Luther King had a famous speech called "I Have A Dream". I Have A Dream is a public speech that was delivered by an American civil rights activist Dr. King, during the march on Washington. Martin Luther King Jr. was an activist and pastor who promoted and organized non-violent protests. He played a pivotal role in advancing civil rights in America and has won a Nobel Peace Prize for his efforts to fight racial inequality in a non violent matter- not hurting.

I am biracial and if I lived back then when segregation was happening I would not be able to do that many things. I thank Martin Luther King for making changes and stepping up for our country and having his famous Dream Speech because if he did not have his speech things would just not be fair. I would have to be in a segregated bathroom, restaurant or school. I would not be able to be friends with whoever I wanted, and so forth and so on. I would feel upset and offended. I would thank Dr. King, who made our country a better place for me and everybody else. If Dr. King did not make these changes, segregation would still be happening. When I grow up I want to be a computer programmer, graphic designer, or a chef, and if Dr. King did not have his speech, I might not get to have any of these important jobs.

When I listened to Dr. King's dream speech, I felt happy because he helped make it so that I could have many opportunities with no signs saying blacks or whites only. I also thank Dr. King for his Dream Speech because he really meant these words, "One day everyone will be treated the right way."
